Last Saturday, I went to the mall in Tunis with my mother to buy a present for my best friend Lina. First, we visited a clothes shop, but the dresses were too expensive. Then we went into a bookshop next to the café. There, I saw a beautiful storybook about animals and a box of coloured pencils. I bought them for thirty-five dinars. I chose them because Lina loves reading and drawing. I think she will be very happy with my present.

One good model among many. The pupil’s paragraph is marked with the checklist.
